REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education records another year of good work done in the public schools. The same corps of teachers employed last year has continued the work, with the exception of Miss Sadie M. Kenney, of Milford, who tendered her resignation, and her place was filled by Miss Flagg, of Acton, Mass.

There will be no graduating class from the High School this year. The Junior, or Senior Class numbers twelve, and it is expected the class to graduate next year will be large.

It is a pleasure to note that the people continue to manifest their interest in the school. During the year gifts have been received in the way of a cabinet for botanical and geological specimens, and many rare specimens, also a collection of stuffed and mounted birds. Thus a beginning has been made which denotes subsequent additions.

The Board, still believing in the greater efficiency of the larger schools, has continued to transport the children as far as practicable to the Centre School, it being done not wholly free of criticism and having not always had the cheerful cooperation of the parents in carrying out the plans for transportation. It has been the policy of the Board to reduce the expense of transportation to the minimum, for every dollar expended in that way lessens, to that extent, the length of the terms of school; and if the people would stop to consider that the schools are sustained, the books and supplies furnished and transportation provided, as a free and voluntary gift, in order that the children may have an educated and enlightened mind to begin the life work, would they not at least ask, "What can I do to aid?" rather than, "What am I to get out of it?"

Generations ago the poet sang, "Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori" (It is sweet and glorious to die for one's country); and that patriotic sentiment has been honored by every subsequent generation.

The common schools are recognized as the bulwark of our country's safety; and if they do not call for the sacrifice of blood, they do call for some sacrifice on the part of every citizen, either of means, time or effort. And the fullest fruition of a judicious expenditure of money comes only when there is hearty paternal cooperation, not only with the teachers of the schools, but with the School Board, who manage and control their expenditure.

We doubt not that the same liberality will be shown in making the appropriations for schools for the coming year, as has characterized the past.

Respectfully Submitted,

FRANKLIN WORCESTER,

BERTHA M. HAYDEN,

CHARLES E. HARDY,

School Board.
